Horns Not Best For Phonographs, Asserts Scientist

(China Press Service)

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 1.—Horns used on telephones and phonographs are not of the most efficient shape for the condensing of sound, in the opinion of Dr. A. L. Foley, head of the department of physics and a research professor at Indiana University.

Dr. Foley said he disagrees with the popular theory that sound comes through horns as water goes through a funnel. He declares that most of the energy backs out of horns instead of being condensed at the small end.

The Indiana University scientist has designed several new types of horns in accordanne with the theory.

Smiles from the Mixed Court

BY J. L. BUTTS

Koo Lau-sz engaged Yang Ah-ling's ricsha to transport her to the railway station. She had just about time enough to make her train and therefore when Zan Yoong-sung stepped out into the highway and stopped the vehicle at the Thibet Road bridge she was annoyed and told him so. The lady had just begun to wax really eloquent when Zan made a grab for her diamond studded earpick and began to grow more and more remote to the Thibet Road Bridge.

Now Koo Lau-sz had paid $170 for the earpick and was more or less attached to it, so she climbed out of the ricsha and started after her jewelry, leaving her silver mosh handbag, containing a gold cigarette case, gold cigarette holder and gold matchbox, in the vehicle. Zan, however, percolated through a couple of convenient alleyways and presently the fair pursuer had to admit that she was baffled. About this time she recalled the valuables left behind and sprinted back to the point of disembarkation, a growing apprehension taking possession of her en route. Sure enough, when she arrived Yang, ricsha, handbag and smoking outfit were completely out of the picture.

Koo reported her troubles to the police without much hope of a recovery, but the police fooled her. They located Yang a few days later in a lodging house, where he had taken up a life of ease. At about the same time they discovered Zan, also affluent. Both of these gentlemen were indignant over the charges brought against them.

Why, spluttered Yang, he had waited half a day for his departed fare to return. Then he had tired of waiting and, seeing that he hadn't been paid for his time or labor, he took the handbag and trinkets to a teashop and sold them for $2.

Zan went so far as to admit deliberately stealing the earpick but laid claim to clemency through the fact that he had pawned the article for only $5, meaning to redeem it. The transaction therefore, he held, should be considered in the nature of a loan.

The Court allowed that there might be certain extenuating circumstances in the case of the ricsha coolie but regarded Zan's ideas of borrowing as too radical for these days, so the former got three and the latter nine months.

RETRIBUTION ARRIVES

Plodding homeward a few nights ago, tired after a strenuous day's labor and heavy-eyed, Tsung Ying-sz gave himself up to pleasant anticipation of the grand sleep he was going to inaugurate just as soon as he could get into juxtaposition with the mattress. Yawning contentedly, he climbed the stairs of his lodgings, entered his chamber and, delivering one last sigh of departing consciousness, threw himself at the accustomed corner. Just as his eyelids fluttered their valedictory he noticed that the bed was not there. But he was too far off his center of balance to stop short of the floor by that time.

Thoroughly awake and charged with indignation, Tsang ransacked the lodging house in search of his cot, but not a feather could he find. Slumber began a second attack and he gave up the search and resigned himself to the thought of buying a new bed. He sought a nearby pawnshop and called for samples. The pawnbroker pulled a roll of bedding from beneath the counter and Tsang's eyes popped out. It was his own lost property. It had been hocked for $2, explained the sympathetic proprietor, and the redemption price would be $2.30. Tsang protested, but the pawnbroker was adamant and

BROADCASTED PLAY SCORES BIG HIT ON RADIOPHONE

Amateur Cast Produces "Wurzel Flummery" By Wireless

AN INNOVATION

Zalsman's, Silas Brothers, Cameron, Wolf And Robertson Tonight

Tonight's Radio Program

One of the most comprehensive treats yet given to Shanghai radio fans will be broadcasted from THE CHINA PRESS-Radio Corporation of China station on the roof of the Dollar building tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock.

In addition to the news bulletins and phonograph selections the following splendid program will be given:

8:10 Two piano solos—"Jazzbetes," and "Teddy Bear," by Mr. Bill Cameron, one of the best exponents of piano jazz in Shanghai.

8:20 Two instrumental solos—baritone and slide-trombone—by Mr. Bolton Wolf, the jazzy horn-tooter from Maxim's Cafe, accompanied by Mr. Ralph Gillen on the piano.

8:30 Vocal numbers by Prof G. Zalsman and Mrs. Zalsman, the noted Shanghai musicians.

"Somewhere A Voice Is Calling."—Prof. Zalsman.

"Zonnelied," (Dutch song) —Mrs. Zalsman.

"Calm As The Night" (duet) Prof. and Mrs. Zalsman.

8:40 The Silas Brothers, too well and favorably known to need an introduction in;

"Sophie's Sofa," a jazz song, by Mr. Arthur Silas, accompanied by Mena.

"A Skit On Grand Opera," by the brothers, Mena and Arthur.

Piano novelty—three tunes at the same time—"Home Sweet Home," "Mendelssohn's Spring," and any other tune.

8:55 Prof. C. H. Robertson of the 'Y' in a five-minute talk on 'Radio.'

THE first theatrical production ever broadcasted in China was presented to radio fans of Shanghai last night through the medium of THE CHINA PRESS and Radio Corporation when "Wurzel Flummery," a one-act comedy, was read by radio by five Shanghai amateurs.

"Wurzel Flummery," one of the cleverest things Mr. A. A. Milne of 'Punch' has ever written, was produced by a cast composed of Mrs. H. Yorke Irivine, Mr. Herbert Langley, Miss Bunty Richardson, Mr. A. Bruce Puddicombe, and Mr. Sam Perry—the same cast that produced the comedy hit for the British Women's Association at the British Country Club.

All were in splendid voice and the broadcasted performance was a distinct success. Modulation was excellent and amateurs reported after the performance that contrary to expectations they were able to keep up with the action of the play almost as completely as though they were watching and listening over the footlights, instead of 'listening in' with ear-pieces at invisible actors.

The play was directed by Mrs. H. Yorke Irivine, who also played the part of 'Margaret Crawshaw,' a feather-brained woman. Mr. Herbert Langley acted 'Robert Crawshaw,' Miss Bunty Richardson was 'Viola Crawshaw,' their daughter, and Mr. A. Bruce Puddicombe acted the part of 'Richard Meriton,' M.P. 'Dennis Clifton,' a solicitor who is keener on theatrical situations than he is on his work, was played by Mr. Sam Perry.

THE UNSEEN ACTION

In the play, which hinges on what a man will do if a large enough sum of money is offered him, the action and lines center about a legacy left Crawshaw if he changes his name to 'Wurzel Flummery.' That's when the

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Federal Control of wireless bill, which was passed by the House yesterday, and which gives control of all phases of wireless telegraphy and telephony to Mr. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, will not affect amateur stations as amateur transmitters are to have a special series of wave lengths set aside for them.

The wireless control bill invests Secretary of Commerce Hoover with control of wireless in the United States which insures the latest development of science with splendid opportunities as Mr. Hoover is already a radio fan and 'listens in' to programs broadcasted in Washington each day. His son, Herbert Jr., is also a fan and recently heard a program sent out from Switzerland.

SIGN CONTRACT FOR HARBIN TRAM AND WATERWORKS

San Francisco Firm Gets $6,000,000 Job Schuhl Hears

The Lindeman-Beckman Engineering Company of San Francisco has signed a contract with the China and Harbin Electric and Joint Stock Company to build a tramway system and waterworks in Harbin at a cost of $6,000,000 according to information received last night by Mr. F. J. Schuhl, the American attorney. The construction work will begin immediately and is to be completed in two years.

The Harbin company signed a contract with the San Francisco concern some time ago, but later refused to carry out their contract and signed a contract with another firm. As a result the American firm sued them in the Chinese Courts at Harbin for $800,000 damages, being represented by Mr. Schuhl, of Schuhl and Schoenfeld.

Before judgment was given the Harbin company agreed to sign a new contract and deposit a guarantee of $1,000,000 if the suit was withdrawn, and Mr. Schoenfeld went to Harbin to draw up the contracts. Mr. Schuhl's advices last night indicate that the new agreement is entirely satisfactory to all concerned.

Army Officer In Hawaii Outranks Admiral, Is Ruling

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Washington, Feb. 2.—Attorney General Harry B. Daugherty today gave an opinion settling the controversy between Army and Navy sticklers for form as to the relative rank of the Army and Navy commanders in Hawaii.

Attorney General Daugherty held that Major General Charles P. Summerall outranked Rear Admiral Edward Simpson because of the dates of commissions of the two officers.

Major General Summerall, commander of the Hawaiian Department, was commissioned a Major General on July 6, 1918. Rear Admiral Summerall, commanding naval forces in Hawaii, was commissioned a Rear Admiral on July 1, 1919.

The controversy, which has been friendly, gives Major General Summerall precedence in all affairs in Honolulu which both attend.

The Bessie Dollar is on her way from Bellingham, Wash., to Kobe with a cargo of lumber.

Mr. Harold Dollar said last night that he had received no further word concerning the vessel's plight but was expecting word at least by this morning that the Pomona had picked up the Bessie Dollar. The vessel was first reported helpless in mid-Pacific (1,800 miles from Kobe) with a broken rudder in an Exclusive Dispatch to THE CHINA PRESS yesterday.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Paris, Feb. 2.—The German Charge d'Affaires has been notified that after midnight tonight no coal shipments will be permitted to be sent into unoccupied parts of Germany, and that henceforth only coal consigned to Italy will be allowed to pass through Germany.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Berlin, Feb. 2.—The German government has again protested against the French contention that Germany has defaulted in reparation payments, and points out that default was solely on account of the French breach of the Versailles treaty. The German government also protests against the French seizure of German hospitals.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Berlin, Feb. 2.—Vatican officials declare that the Holy See's effort at diplomatic mediation in the Ruhr crisis has proven fruitless. The Pope, therefore, will confine himself to the issuance of a manifesto urging moderation and Christian justice.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Cologne, Feb. 2.—The French authorities today ordered four mines in the Felsenkircken area in the Dortmund district to immediately resume coal deliveries toward France.

The directors of two of the mines refused point-blank and the directors of the others said they would make their replay in writing, intimating, however, that they would refuse.

The French have declared that in case of refusal they will confiscate the mines and make the incident a test case.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

London, Feb. 2.—Premier Bonar Law has declined to comply with the Labor Party's request for a special session of parliament to consider the Ruhr and Near East situations.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Berlin, Feb. 2.—It is announced here that among other offers of outside aid to sufferers in the Ruhr valley is one of considerable proportions from Mexico.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris Feb. 1.—Dispatches presumably from German sources state that the French terror in the Ruhr Valley progresses. German industrialists, refusing to disobey the German leaders, are being arrested and expelled without legal proceedings, even invalids not being spared, but mercilessly dragged from their beds by the police.

When the Duesseldorf telephone girls struck, owing to French interference, French officers are said to have driven the girls with riding whips from their offices.

According to the Petit-Parisien 3,000 French railroad men have arrived in the Ruhr valley to replace German ones. The German railway minister has renewed his orders not to despatch from the occupied districts, including the British zone, any coal, briquets or timber to France or Belgium.

French and Belgium military transports and provisions must not be forwarded and the Minister forbids co-operation with French and Belgian railroad men. He has ordered that all French and Belgian trains running on lines used for scheduled German trains to stop.

General Degoutte has declared an aggravated state of siege over all the occupied territories.

Poincare has informed American correspondents in Paris that France is firmly resolved to keep the Ruhr valley five years or till Germany eventually complies with her reparation obligations in accordance with the Versailles treaty.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Feb. 1.—From midnight last night the cutting off from non-occupied Germany of coal from the Ruhr is an accomplished fact. All coal trains for non-occupied Germany were stopped in the stations by the French Customs officials without resistance on the part of the German railwaymen.

At Worhalp (?), a very important station for the traffic of the district, thirty-five trains were stopped this morning and diverted to France and Belgium. Two

FRENCH RESERVE RIGHT TO TREAT ALONE WITH TURK

Paris Government Dispatches Note To Britain

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 1.—It is authoritatively learned that the French Government has sent to the British Government a Note to the effect that France reserves the right to undertake separate negotiations with Turkey in the event of failure of the Lausanne Conference.

The Note is regarded in London as showing that there is no truth in the French newspaper report that France had sent a Note to the Angora Government and despatched copies of it to London and Rome.

In any case the latest developments at Lausanne appear to put the French Note in abeyance for the time being as it is hoped that the Conference will come to a successful termination within the next three days.

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Feb. 1.—The Russian Delegation has refused to sign the Straits Convention.

Ismet Pasha agreed to the proposed regime of the Straits subject to certain reservations, notably with regard to the Turks' desire to have a garrison at Gallipoli. Ismet Pasha declared that Turkey made a great concession by opening the Straits and thereby weakening the defences of Constantinople and he hoped that this would be given due weight in the general problem.

Marquess Curzon in reply reiterated the Allied views relative to the garrison at Gallipoli. He said that the alies would not impose the Convention on Russia.

M. Chicherin declared that the scheme menaced the security of Russia, Georgia and the Ukraine and showed the impotence of the Conference to make peace. He said that Russia reserved her freedom of action.

Marquess Curzon at the close of the sitting said that he hoped that Russia would ultimately sign.

INCOME TAX

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Washington, Feb. 2.—Secretary Mellon of the Treasury has written a letter to the Tax Commissioner of New York state to the effect that unless the state discontinues the issuance of tax exempt securities the federal government will find a substitute for the present surtax on incomes.

trains are reported to have been diverted from Aix-La-Chapelle.

General Payot has formed an office to assure the traffic on the waterways of the Ruhr in conjunction with the railways. His first task is to supply the troops but he will also assure the service to neutral countries, especially Switzerland and Holland.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

The Temps announces that new orders to be carried out with regard to the deliveries due to France and Belgum have been addressed to the managements of the various mines, especially at Recklinghausen.

At Duesseldorf, the situation having relaxed in tension, General Simon has ceased patrols and withdrawn the orders closing public offices.

The Russian and Bavarian railway authorities have reduced the passenger train services in non-occupied Germany from 10 to 20 percent.

Germany has not paid the sum of 500,000,000 gold marks due on January 31.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Feb. 1.—The Temps publishes a report from Mayence stating that two serious attempts have been made in the Ruhr at train-wrecking. In one case the rails were removed near Hinheilheim and the Coblence train was derailed.

In the other case the points were deflected. In both cases there were no casualties. The attempts resulted in the arrest of a railway director, two high officials and four railwaymen.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Feb. 1.—Senator Reed at the conclusion of a debate in the American Senate made a speech justifying France's attitude in the Ruhr. He received 1,500 letters of congratulation in three days after the speech.

(Reuter's Service)

Mayence, Feb. 1.—The Superintendent of Railways here has been arrested.

The wires between Dortmund and Duesseldorf have been cut.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Feb. 1.—It is reported from Duesseldorf that a general railway strike has been declared in the Cologne district except in the British zone.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Feb. 1.—It is reported from Koenigsberg that a motor-car containg members of the Inter-Allied Mission was attacked yesterday by students who struck one Frenchman.

Demonstrations outside the Mission's quarters continued all night. A large crowd is still besieging the office awaiting the French members.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 2.—Correspondents in the Ruhr report that all roads and railways leading thence to unoccupied Germany are closed against the passage of coal, the output of which has been greatly reduced. The pit banks are already congested and the miners will soon be unemployed, rendering the position in the occupied area very serious, even if the unoccupied territory is able to satisfy its coal needs.

A further report from Duesseldorf indicates that the agreement as regards railwaymen resuming work in the Cologne area applies to the whole of the Ruhr and the Rhineland and is understood to be due to British mediation.

(Reuter's Service)

Rotterdam, Feb. 2.—Interviewed by a Dutch correspondent the German Chancellor, Herr Cuno, declared that Germany would not slacken passive resistance in regard to the Ruhr but in no case would she be tempted to offer active resistance which she could not support.

(Reuter's Service)

Cologne, Feb. 2.—An understanding has been reached whereby the railwaymen will resume work in the Cologne area after withdrawal of the French and Belgian guards from the stations. Restriction will operate concerning the transport of coal and other reparations trains.

The Belgians have seized the main customs office of Aix-la-Chapelle and ejected the officials. Many motorcars and lorries have been requisitioned.

It is estimated that there is ample food in the Cologne area for two months unless the transport situation is further aggravated.

Asks Resumption Of Weihaiwei Meet

(China Press Service)

Peking, Feb. 1.—Mr. R. H. Clive, British Charge d'Affaires, has addressed a despatch to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, stating that the British Government agrees to the proposal of the Chinese Government to shift the seat of the Sino-British Conference in Weihaiwei with regard to the retrocession of that port, to Peking.

Mr. Clive requests that arrangements be made for the resumption of the Conference.

Broadcasted Play Scares

fun begins, and the clever lines that work the situation up to a climax were all well received by the radio fans.

Because of unforseen electrical difficulties at the broadcasting station in the Dollar building last night the program was broadcasted from Prof. C. H. Robertson's sending set in the 'Y' laboratories at 20 Museum Road. No piano was available at the later hour the change became necessary and Prof. and Mrs. Zalsman, who were scheduled to sing two solos and a duet, and Mr. Bolton Wolf, the Maxim jazzy horn player, postponed their numbers until tonight.

Prof. Zalsman will sing a solo, "Somewhere A Voice Is Calling," and Mrs. Zalsman will sing a rollicking Dutch song, "Zonnelied." As a duet number they will sing "Calm As The Night."

Mr. Wolf, accompanied by Mr. Ralph Gillen on the piano, will play two instrumental solos on his favorite horns, baritone and side-trombone. Those who have seen Mr. Wolf in action and heard him play know what kind of a treat is in store for them.

THE SILAS BOYS

Mena and Arthur Silas, among the best known amateur entertainers in Shanghai, have several brand new numbers for the entertainment of the radio fans. Mr. Arthur Silas will sing "Sophie's Sofa," one of the latest songs to hit China from Tin Pan Alley, and the brothers will join forces to give "A Skit On Grand Opera," a rip-snorting and laugh-provoking mimic of the masters of the high arias. Mr. Mena Silas will conclude their skyland offering with a unique novelty on the piano—three tunes at one and the same time. Despite Mr. Silas' natural limitations—he has only two hands—he is able to cram all three tunes into one musical treat.

As a dispenser of jazz music Mr. Bill Cameron is one of the most popular ivory coaxers in Shanghai and his two piano solos tonight should prove to be one of the hits of a program that is chockful of good things. Mr. Cameron will play "Jazz-betes," and "Teddy Bear," two excellent tunes for radio transmission.

A RADIO CHAT

The program will be concluded with a five-minute interesting and instructive chat on radio for beginners by Prof. C. H. Robertson of the Y.M.C.A., one of the first scientists in China to take up radio and perhaps the best informed man in the Far East on the subject. He has carried on broadcasting and receiving successfully for some time and in order to assist readers of The China Press in operating their own receiving sets has consented to give a series of short, easily understood talks on the latest marvel of the age.

The usual news bulletins and phonograph selections will be sandwiched in between program numbers.

Reports from some amateurs later in the evening said that because of what appeared to be fluctuating power parts of the program last night were indistinct. The French wireless station receiving set also had some difficulty in receiving last night for the first time since the broadcasting was inaugurated.

Mr. A. Bruce Puddicombe, one of the principals in last night's wireless play, is an ardent radio fan and has been receiving for some time. He is the president of the Shanghai Radio Circle, an organisation of amateurs who are doing excellent missionary work in popularising radio telephony in Shanghai.

As an experiment Mr. Puddicombe and other members of the cast donned receivers during the recital of the play and caught their cues through the receiving set instead of listening to the natural voice of the speaker.

USES HIS RADIO IN DEVELOPMENT OF HIS CHICKENS

Experiments conducted by John T. Thomas in an incubator hatchery at Columbus Grove, O., have demonstrated that radio has a beneficial effect in stimulating the growth and development of young chickens and produces strong and sturdy fowls, according to the New York World.

The discovery was accidental, but the confirmation of such results was proved by a series of tests and experiments covering a period of several months. Mr. Thomas hatches approximately 3,000 chicks a week, requiring his personal attention almost hourly day and night. With a view to relieving the monotony of the long hours of vigil he installed a wireless outfit over which he received broadcastings for his own entertainment, consisting largely of musical concerts.

It was not long after Mr. Thomas sought this diversion that he noticed that the radio programs were having the effect of lulling his little chicks to sleep. Without the music they were restless and nervous, but as soon as the instrument was tuned they became quiet and soon were asleep. The result of the abundance of sleep and relaxation was more rapid growth, better health and physical condition and stronger development.

Mr. Thomas proved his unique theory by raising one flock with radio and another without, a complete record of both of which was kept. The former "retired" earlier and therefore slept longer, grew faster, developed more hardily and were better in every respect, and by this experiment Mr. Thomas proved also that the radio reduced the mortality, all but two of the radio flock surviving to the maturity and kill stage, while ten of those deprived of the soothing, sleep-producing influence of the radio lullaby died in infancy.

So thoroughly is Mr. Thomas convinced of the profit increasing efficiency of the radio in the chicken business that he is having a large equipment installed in his hatchery, so arranged that every chicken will be able to "listen in" on the nightly wireless musical programs.

Heard Radio By His Garden Hose

When the radio returns of the World's Series baseball games were being broadcast, at least one unique turn was given to the event, recent information indicates. As is generally known, the voice of the broadcaster was transmitted from the Polo Grounds, New York City, to Newark, N. J., where the wireless broadcasting was done, says the New York World.

One of the directors of a radio corporation in New York was giving a "radio baseball party" at his home in Far Rockaway, when the telephone bell rang. It appears that Dr. Richard H. Hoffman, a well known New York physician and one of the director's friends, had also been "listening in" to the radio returns at his own home. But in the middle of a very exciting play, his storage battery broke down.

In haste, he hurried to phone his friend to inquire what to do. The radio corporation director offered to assist him, and this is how it was done.

Instead of continuing to "listen in" on one loud speaker horn, a second was connected in series. Then the gardener brought in the lawn hose. One end of the hose was stuffed down the throat of the loud speaker and the other fastened to the mouthpiece of the land telephone. "Central" set the connection to the good doctor's home telephone, and Dr. Hoffman, listening to the receiver of his land telephone, was able to hear every play.

Irish Senator Is Released By Rebels

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 1.—Senator Bagwell who was kidnapped by rebels on the night of January 30 has been released.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 2.—Senator Bagwell escaped through a window while his captors were having their breakfast. He ran across the country until he struck a road, where he got a lift on a motor car.

(Reuter's Service)

Dublin, Feb. 1.—While the Republican Chief of Staff issued a proclamation refusing to give up hostages and saying that punishment would be inflicted on members of both houses of the Irish Parliament if the Government's threatened reprisals in connection with the kidnapping of Senator Bagwell were carried out, there are indications that the Republicans at least afforded Senator Bagwell facilities to escape, thus temporarily averting a fresh reprisal crisis.

Smiles From The Mixed Court

the money was paid. Next day Tsang made inquiries and cleuthed about but found no clue that might lead him to the despoiler of his boudoir and finally he decided that this was a case where justice had been successfully sidetracked. But it wasn't.

A day or so subsequent to the foregoing happenings Mme. Tsung Ngoh-sung, who lives in Markham Road, was eating her midday rice and watching little Tsung Kung-ngan compose mud-pies just outside the doorway. She was suddenly horrified to see a youth stride through her son's culinary display, slap the youngster's face and deftly remove one of his earrings. Mme. Tsung was on the spot before the proceedings went any further and the policeman from the corner arrived immediately thereafter to request the indignant mother to stop shrieking and to take San Ah-sau off her hands. At the station, among San's few possessions, was found a pawn-ticket—the record of impounding for one bed.

Thus when San appeared in the Mixed Court he faced two charges, on the strength of which he was enrolled at the reformatory for a three years' course.

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

LOCAL ZIONISTS HOLD MEMORIAL TO HONOR NORDA

Under the auspices of the local Zionist Association and the Kadimah, a memorial meeting for the late Dr. Max Nordau and Ben Yehudah, two eminent Zionists, was held Thursday at the Jewish Club "Ahduth," Rabbi W. Hirsch presiding. There was a large attendance.

The Chairman in his introductory remarks dwelt on the great loss which world-Jewry had sustained in the death of two distinguished leaders whose services to Zionism would be inscribed in the annals of Jewish history with letters which time would not wipe out. Dr. Nordau was known as the spokesman of Jewry and his addresses at the Zionist Congresses at which he presided surveying the tribulations of the Jewish people would long be remembered. He proclaimed to humanity in trumpet-tones the wrongs from which the latter had suffered. He demanded, as the Tribune of the Jewish people, the justice that had been denied them. The death of Ben Yehudah, the father of the modern Hebrew language, would be felt far and wide for the deceased had labored for over 30 years in compiling the Hebrew Dictionary which work had done much to revive the Hebrew language in the Land of Israel.

Mr. N. E. B. Ezra confined his remarks to the late Dr. Nordau and referred to his active work on behalf of Zionism and the unique message of hope which he brought to the Jews. The success of Zionism today was in no small measure due to Dr. Nordau's dauntless spirit who had writ his name large in the history of his people. He had a lofty vision of the future of Israel as a nation. He strove ardently to impress upon world-Jewry the momentousness of the day that had dawned upon them and battled with dignity and courage to frustrate the sinister designs of their enemies. His passing away was a great loss to Zionism. Zion mourns the death of Nordau. "A bright light passed away from the revolving year" casting profound gloom over them. His good name will remain with them and be reflected throughout the ages to come.

In conclusion the following resolutions were silently adopted, the audience remaining standing:

That this meeting of Shanghai Zionists record with deep regret and sorrow the death of Dr. Max Simon Nordau and Eliezer Ben Yehudah, two distinguished Zionists who served Zionism unselfishly and untiringly during their lifetime. They offer to the sorrowing relatives of the deceased and to the World Zionist Organisation their sincere sympathy and condolence.

That this meeting pledge itself to support the drive inaugurated by the Jewish National Fund for the "Nordau Garden City" in Palestine and calls upon the Zionists in China to contribute liberally to the Fund.

Speeches were made by Messrs. George E. Sokolsky, I. L. Hasser and A. Einhorn, after which a collection was made for the Nordau Garden City.

American Debt To Weigh Heavily On British Tax Payers

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 1.—The Attorney-General, Sir Douglas Hogg, speaking in London emphasised the difficulty of the Cabinet's decision with regard to the American debt because it meant taxation at the rate of £1 a head yearly on the whole population of Britain for 60 odd years.

The Cabinet considered that when England had promised to pay it was worth any sacrifice to redeem her word if her creditor chose an exact promise.

It was worth almost any sacrifice also to maintain the friendly relation between the two great English-speaking peoples in these days of unrest and turmoil.

Referring to the Ruhr, the Attorney-General said that the events of the past month justified the British refusal to assist in the French plan in exacting reparations.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Feb. 2.—A note of opposition to the Anglo-American debt settlement, was sounded by Senator McKellar in the Senate yesterday. He declared that Congress was not entitled to grant a bonus or subsidy and contended that the American Commission had exceeded its authority in suggesting more liberal terms than Congress authorised.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Feb. 2.—The British Ambassador to the United States, Sir Auckland Geddes, has declared the remarks foundationless which were attributed to Mr. Stanley Baldwin on his arrival at Southampton to the effect that the British debt had got on the nerves of Americans and that Congress would not willingly eat its own legislation. Mr. Baldwin did not criticise or asperse any section of the American people.

Asssessor Blackburn and Magistrate Li ordered a warrant for the clerk's arrest to issue and stated that the bail money be confiscated.

SUICIDE LEAVES BODY TO DOCTOR; REQUEST DENIED

(Reuter's Service)

In a letter left for her landlord, Mrs. A. R. Lanskaya, who committed suicide by hanging herself in her room at 261 Broadway Thursday morning, requested that her body be turned over to Dr. Birt for scientific study, thereby bringing an unusual point before Assessor Ivanoff and Magistrate Tsang at the inquest yesterday.

The Assessor and Magistrate, asked for a ruling by Chief Inspector Wheeler, held that, while there was nothing in Russian law to prevent such a request being carried out, the woman might be deemed to have been temporarily insane at the time she took her own life. It was therefore ordered that the body be buried, as in usual circumstances, the cost of burial, if proof of Russian citizenship is available, to be levied on the Bureau of Russian Affairs.

Ill-health and poverty are the reasons given by the woman, who was 45 years of age, for her act.

"Everything is false—white, red, yellow, blue—everything is a trifle," begins the translation of the letter left for her landlord.

Continuing, the writer states that she has been ill for a long time. "I am very sick and tired and want rest from all. I have been worrying a long time, till I decided to die—because I love life too much. But now I can defy everything. I am at peace with everything. Tomorrow I will feel nothing—not even tomorrow—within two or three hours."

She then states that she has a request to make, that her body be turned over to Dr. Birt for the purpose of scientific study.

"If there is another life," the note concludes, "we will meet. If not—what then? Daybreak is nearing. I wish you all luck."

TWO JUDGMENTS GIVEN AGAINST PRIVATE SLEUTH

Court, However, Expresses Doubt As To Collection

Expressing doubt as to whether plaintiffs would be any the better off for his ruling Judge Peter Grain, of the British Supreme Court, gave two judgments yesterday against Mr. E. L. Tuck, manager of the Oriental Secret Service.

The claims against the defendant, who did not appear, were one for $217.50 by the Taylor Garage and one for $778.90 by Karm Chand, watchman employed by Mr. Tuck.

In the first case Mr. J. B. Taylor testified that the amount claimed was for car hire and gasoline. A check for $96.50 had been tendered as part payment, but was dishonored, as was also a compradore order for the same amount.

The plaintiff in the second case stated that the amount of his claim included his wages, advances made to the defendant and money paid in connection with the engagement of special watchmen. Promises of payment had been made, as in the previous case, but no money was forthcoming.

"The judgment is in your favor, but I do not know whether you will get the money or not," said the Court in giving judgment.

Previous to the hearings Mr. Hearne testified that he had been unable to serve the defendant personally, though he had called at his place of business on several occasions. The summons was eventually served through Mr. R. L. Moore, manager of the Astor House, where defendant lived.

"Ten Nights In A Bar-Room"

"Ten Nights in a Bar-room," the big screen production which will be the feature attraction at the Isis Theater beginning from Monday for one week is a film version of the famous novel and play which swept the United States some half a century ago. Regarded as one of the classics of the American stage years ago, "Ten Nights in a Bar-room," played in practically every town and city in the United States. It has been picturised for the first time, with the result that the worth of that story and play is proved conclusively. That such a master piece will never grow old is shown by the tremendous success which greeted this photoplay in every city in which it has been shown to date. The picture follows the novel closely, but in it have been incorporated some of the most realistic thrills and exciting action that has ever been seen on the screen. A huge three-story frame building is burned to the ground, and there is a log jam which is the last word in screen thrills. Those who remember the old play will be impressed by the much wider range of realism which is permitted by the screen.

Hongkong Boy Is Killed By Circus Cheetah

Teddy, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Arnold of Hongkong, died at Government Civil Hospital on last Saturday as a result of injuries he received when he was mauled by a cheetah after the matinee performance of Harmston's circus. One of the cheetahs broke out of its cage while the boy was watching them and dug its claws into his throat. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold had booked passage for England and had intended leaving Hongkong for good on February 7.

War Ministry To Take Over Property

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 30.—It is semi-officially reported that the Cabinet has replied to a query from the Ministry of War to the effect that military property at Tsingtao and along the Kiaochow-Tsinan Railway, including the military buildings, barracks, wireless stations, fortifications, sheds, drilling grounds, etcetera, will be entirely under the control of the Ministry of War with the exception of what still belongs to the Japanese. The War Ministry had suggested that they should have charge of this property and the Cabinet has thus agreed to their proposal.

Bronze Bones In Living Men Hope Of Science

(China Press Correspondence)

Paris, by mail.—Living men with bones of bronze may soon be a common sight, according to an important announcement to the Academy of Science by Professor Doumer, disclosing a method by which large quantities of copper may be introduced into the human organism by means of electricity.

The process consists of passing a weak current through two electrodes soaked with a solution of sulphate of copper, the electrodes being placed on the skin of the patient.

It is thus possible to introduce five to ten centigrammes of metallic copper daily, eventually saturating the organism to such a degree that the bones become metallic and the skin takes on a bronze hue.

BY TOMMY GRAFTON

The Stripes sprung a big surprise last night, staging a rally late in the second half of their game with the Bearcats, and winning in the final minute of play by a score of 20 to 18. The Bearcats were without Kenny Irle,.

Play was close during most of the first half, but neither side could locate the basket, even from free positions, and Gray, Elliott and Roxburgh had hard luck with every try. The Doc was the only consistent performer for the losers, caging five. The fight soon developed into a wild open game, with the guards playing well up, and the forwards had frequent opportunities for easy shots. The Cats led for a short while, and then the Stripes pushed up and tied the game at eight all, after which Doc Gray got into position and banged in a couple, the half ending with the Bearcats leading 12 to 8.

The second half opened badly for the Stripes, Irle's stars soon dropping in two goals, and the Stripes were four baskets in the rear. Then Ross and Johnson got busy, and caged one apiece, but Pollock gave the Bearcats a six point lead when he scored an easy shot from under the net. With five minutes to play, and the score 18 to 12 against them, Ross's Stripes came back and tallied four successive baskets, the last one, by Johnson, coming a minute before the final whistle.

The Bearcats fought with feverish haste in the last seconds, but they fumbled, and the whistle announced the fifth downfall of the Bears.

The Bearcats dropped to a full game behind the American School, and four games behind the Blues, who are now assured of the pennant. The big fight will be for second place between the School and the Bearcats, and unless Irle's men get going, the schoolboys will have a good chance for the position.

Last night's summary follows:

Cathedral School Boys Hold Golf Tournament, Bob Hykes Is Champion

By Westa
(and Dr. Robbins)

Colonel Bogey gave a party for a number of the boys at the Cathedral School yesterday afternoon, and proved a miserable failure as a host, as usual.

"Come out to my golf course at the Recreation Ground," the Colonel's neatly phrased invitations read, "and I will give you some inside information on certain secrets that have disrupted a number of leading families in this town."

This was an attractive offer, even to the Cathedral school boys, who despite their youth and the high moral precepts drilled into them daily by Graham Barrow, are still not so youthful as to hide their heads in a bucket every time somebody promises to drag a few family skeletons out of their closets.

Accordingly there was a great curiosity to know what the old Colonel had up his sleeve, as attested by the eager and expectant faces that showed up at the first tee, which is where the Colonel serves the hors d'ouvres, so to speak, whenever he stages a party.

GREETS HIS GUESTS

"Well, well," chortled the old Colonel, rubbing his hands and smiling that siren smile of his, "I see you are all here! Well, well, this is jolly fine!"

Saying which the foxy old Colonel whispered something to the boys, whereupon they took their golf sticks in hand and proceeded on the first round. After they were all on their way the foxy old Colonel went back to the golf club porch, from which vantage point he could sip his whiskey and soda and at the same time keep an eye on the divots that flew through the air and listen to the topped golf balls as they rattled against the bamboo fences surrounding the crick fields.

What the Colonel had whispered to the boys was that if they would play once around the course he would tell them, when they reached the ninth green, why it was that their mamas and papas frequently came home of evenings with frowns and scowls on their faces and a more or less degree of murder in their hearts.

Sly old beggar! He knew very well that after they had played nine holes there would be no necessity to enlighten them further in the mysteries of this family disrupting secret.

And he didn't. The boys found out for themselves.

HAD GLORIOUS FUN

However, that didn't stop them from having a glorious time, nor will the fact that they failed to do anything that caused the old Colonel to fear for his hide deter them from looking forward to repititions of the Cathedral School golf championship, which hereafter is to be a semi-annual affair.

Yesterday's matches were the first ever held by the school, great interest having been shown lately by the boys in the links game. To encourage this interest THE CHINA PRESS contributed a handsome silver trophy, and on this the winner of each championship event is to have his name inscribed.

The winner in yesterday's matches was Robert Hykes, who returned a card of 102. His handicap is 3, so his net score for the 18 holes was 99—which is a lot less than a lot of goofs that are a lot bigger can make it in. Moreover, these boys counted all their strokes, scrupulously, which is something that a lot of goofs that are a lot bigger and a lot more experienced, do not always do. The winner's card:

Out 5 7 7 5 6 6 5 5 8—54
In 3 5 6 5 4 5 5 5 10-48—102

The best card returned in the morning round was that of Donald Hykes, brother of the winner, whose net score for the 18 holes was 107. Donald's net score would have been 104 if there hadn't been such a flock of air around the first tee. As it was he had to use up three perfectly good strokes to push some of this superfluous atmosphere out of the way so he could get started. One of Don's so-called friends, seeing him thus engaged in creating a vacuum, asked him who he was waving at. "What do you think you are doing! Don," he chirped, "going away on a train or something?"

HE HAS COMPANY

Donald should not feel put out over these miscues, however, for he can remind any Smart Alex that goes peddling the story around town and making public property of it, so to speak, that no less a person than Walter Hagen, former American and present British champion, stood on the first tee in a championship match in America a few years ago, with hundreds of people looking on, and missed one clean as a whistle.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the whole competition, aside from Donald's reluctance to spoil the polish on the nice new ball that he had purchased for this momentous occasion, was Dean Wells' putter. This was a marvelous home-made weapon that seemed to be a sort of cross between a Schenectady and a common garden hoe. It had no form, and in its make-up there were so many departures from the ordinary rules and practices adhered to by golf stick architects that Carter, the professional, remarked after one look at it that some may think the Cathedral School is an educational institution, but that hereafter nobody could convince him that it isn't a carpenter shop.

THE PERFECT ANSWER

Young Mr. Wells was asked why he preferred this implement to the orthodox tools ordinarily used on the greens, and his answer, which came quick as a flash, reveals beyond all shadow of doubt that Graham Barrow is teaching those Cathedral School boys to think directly and to the point, and to speak with no waste of words. Dean's reply was:

"Because I can sink 'em with it."

And indeed he could sink 'em with it. In fact, if Dean's game from the tee and through the fairways had been up to the standard he established on the greens he would have had old Colonel Bogey streaking it down the middle of Nanking Road before the afternoon was over, pleading for his life. Dean explained, however, that most of his spare time last year was used up in designing and making his unique putter, with the result that he hadn't been able to get in much practice. Next year he promises to win, or make the others know they have had a battle.

As a matter of fact some of Dean's cronies let it be known yesterday that he is at present at work on a driver of his own

Interport Soccer Trial This Afternoon; Five Games Carded In Second League

BY "WHISTLE"

The chief interest will center in the Interport trial game today. It should be a fine struggle, and will give the Interport Selection Committee a final line on the best combination to put in the field for the great game at Hongkong.

Three Interport players figure in the Rest of Shanghai, and, as is inevitable, opinions are held that each of them is better than some one in the Interport team.

Well, here's their chance to prove it. Of course they are playing against a better team, but the experienced spectator who knows the game will make allowances.

The following is the complete association football card for today:

The following are the teams for the Interport trial match to be played at the Police ground at 3 p.m.:

design and that he is nursing a secret ambition to revolutionise the game when he gets this implement finished. The other contestants are hopeful that Dean will spend so much time on the new driver during the next few months that by the time the spring championship comes around he will be so out of practice that the others will have a look-in.

IAN BUSTS ONE

Aside from these features, and the fact that Ian McDougal hit one so hard off the sixth tee that he busted his favorite driver, the championship was devoid of interest.

The winner, Bob Hykes, had a good chance to return a "low forty" card in his second round, as he stood 38 on the eighth tee. The long ninth, however, proved his undoing. He started well on this hole, slamming his tee shot well beyond the jump. He had a good lie for his brassie second, but in pressing for distance he hooked into the cricket club. From then on the only thing he had besides trouble was more trouble, finishing finally with an unwieldly 10. This ran his score to 48, and his temper to the boiling point.

The next contest will be in the Autumn and the handicaps will be revised on the cards returned yesterday.

able and willing to go down to Hongkong, if selected.

It is appreciated that the time for training is short, but it is thought that if rigid training is entered into forthwith, the desired results will be achieved. Members of the Rowing Club are reminded that entries close on February 9.

It is felt that if the Club sends its oarsmen down for the Hongkong Regatta, Hongkong and other outports will probably reciprocate later by participation in Shanghai's Regattas, thus reviving interest in Interport Regattas, which is the desire of all keen oarsmen.

POST OFFICE

NOTIFICATION No. 566

Complaints have, in the past, been received from the public regarding delay or loss of mail matter whilst in the custody of the Post Office. Investigation has shown that such delay or loss might in many cases have been avoided with ordinary care, the adoption of reasonable precautions, and by adherence to postal rules. For public guidance, and to ensure the proper transmission and delivery of mail matter through the Post, attention is drawn to the following points:—

1. It is of the greatest importance that all articles to be sent through the Post should be addressed legibly and completely. The Post Office declines all responsibility in the case of insufficiently addressed articles. To be complete, an address must mention the name of the addressee, his rank or business, the street and number of the house, and, if addressed to a place in China, the town as well as the province; if intended for a place abroad, the country and its territorial subdivision-state, county or department-in which the town is situated, must be given.

2. The public—especially residents in the interior—are recommended to have prepared printed or written labels of thin paper bearing their name and address in Chinese, and to send them to their correspondents in order that these labels, in addition to the foreign address, may be affixed to postal articles to be sent to them. Similarly those in correspondence with persons resident in the interior of China who have not received such slips are advised to request their correspondents to supply them for use, as mentioned above.

3. Newspapers and Periodicals from abroad frequently reach China with wrappers torn and broken beyond identification. The public are consequently advised, in their own interest, to request senders—especially agents who bundle several periodicals in one packet—to

(a) Write or stamp the name and address of the addressee on the face of each periodical, as well as on the wrapper, so as to render delivery possible in case the wrapper is lost.

(b) Use strong packing-paper wrappers.

(c) Tie these wrappers round the papers securely with string.

4. Since the withdrawal of the foreign postal agencies from China, the reduced rates of postage which were in operation from certain foreign countries to their agencies in China no longer apply, and mail matter from abroad (except Japan, Korea, the Leased Territory of Kwantung, Taiwan, Hongkong and Macao, to and from which special rates operate) must be franked according to the rates fixed by the Universal Postal Union (International Tariff). Mail matter received in China from foreign countries without postage affixed according to international rates is liable to be taxed double the amount of the deficiency. The public are therefore advised to call the attention of their foreign correspondents to the necessity of franking mail matter according to the international rates.

5. To assist the Post Office in providing good service, the public are also requested to refer to the Postal Commissioner every case where an apparent irregularity occurs, as, in case of neglect of duty, non-discovery in one instance is likely to lead to a repetition of the offence. The cover of any article of correspondence about which complaint is made should, if possible, be forwarded to the Postal Commissioner with such complaint. Where correspondence has been missent or delayed, all that the complainant need do is to write on the cover "Missent to ....." "Not delivered till ....." as the case may be, and send it without letter to the Commissioner.

The importance of the above precautions cannot be too strongly emphasised, and strict adherence to them would prevent much annoyance to patrons of the Post Office, as well as difficulty to the postal employes responsible for the handling of the mails.

C. H. SHIELDS
Postal Commissioner.

PEKING HAS NEW PLAN TO SETTLE FOREIGN LOANS

Powers To Be Asked For Conference On Tariff

(China Press Service)

Peking, Feb. 1.—The National Finance Commission held a plenary session yesterday. Mr. Chang Ying-hua, Chairman of the Commission, reported on the following resolutions adopted by the Committee on Public Loans affiliated with the Commission:—

1. In connection with domestic loans, the repesentatives of the Bureau of Domestic Loans and the Chinese Banking Group and the Inspector-General of the Maritime Customs shall make joint arrangements for the appropriation of the Customs Surplus, after allocations have been made towards the repayment of the Boxer Indemnity and foreign loans.

2. Furthermore, an annual sum of $14,000,000, to be appropriated from the salt revenue, shall be placed under the control of the Inspector-General of the Maritime Customs to meet payments for the capital and accrued interest due on consolidated domestic loans and for the interest due on the $96,000,000 Exchequer Loan any balance to be applied for the various items of administrative expenses, according to the order in their passage by the Cabinet.

3. In connection with the foreign debts, the Government shall urge the Powers to convene a Special Tariff Conference in accordance with a decision reached at the Washington Conference so as to decide upon the proposed application of the two and a half percent surtax to be levied later on towards the consolidation of the sinking fund for foreign loans.

The Government, however, shall make it clear to the Powers that any balance of the two and a half percent surtax may be used for the service of the $96,000,000 Exchequer Loan and other non-consolidated internal loans.

4. The Government shall order the Ministries of Finance and Communications to investigate jointly the total amount of foreign debts owed by them with a view to rehabilitation, which is to be governed by the principle of priority.

New Finance Chief Tells His Program

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 31.—Mr. Liu En-yuan, Minister of Finance, who assumed office this week, has promulgated his policy as follows:—

1. During his tenure of office, the Ministry of Finance will not conclude any foreign loans.

2. He will do his utmost to prevent the misappropriation of the increased Customs revenue by the Government.

3. Steps will be taken by the Ministries of Foreign Affairs and Finance jointly to approach the Diplomatic Corps for the release of the Salt Surplus to defray urgent governmental expenses at the end of the lunar year.

Peking Objects To Seizure Of Bonds By Japanese Bank

(China Press Service)

Peking, February 1.—It was resolved by the Finance ministry today to request the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to lodge a strong protest with M. Obata, Japanese Minister, against the detention by the Yokohama Specie Bank of the Salt Surplus due for release in December to the amount of $4,000,000 for the service of certain loan bonds, being the Russian subscription to the Reorganisation Loan issued in 1913, which were subsequently purchased from the Russian bond-holders by the Japanese bank.

The Ministry of Finance holds that these bonds which bear a face value of $5,000,000, are duplicate ones. They were issued to replace the Advanced Subscription Bonds floated at an earlier date. Owing to the revolution in Russia and its consequent political turmoil, the Advanced Subscription Bonds could not be withdrawn with the result that the Chinese Government was thereby placed under a double obligation.

The Ministry declares that the Chinese Government on a previous occasion made it clear to the Russo-Asiatic Bank which represented the Russian interests that the duplicate bonds were invalid. It asserts, therefore, that the Yokohama Specie Bank, which purchased these bonds from the "Reds" at thirty percent of their face value, has no more claim for their redemption than the original Russian bond-holders.

At a special conference yesterday the Ministry of Finance decided to reject the demand of M. de Eleurian, French Minister, for the payment of the French share of the Box Indemnity in gold francs, instead of paper francs, inasmuch as such a mode of payment is contrary to the provision of the Boxer Indemnity Treaty.

Historical Analogies

(New York Times)

SOME eager spirits see in the present events in Europe a repetition of those of a hundred years ago. Then Great Britain, after having for years been tied up by war with Continental interests, withdrew from those bonds, and resumed her old independence, because she could not assent to the international policies adopted by her former allies. The conference at Paris is seen by some as an analogy to the Congress at Vienna. There are even those who cherish the hope that as British policy turned a century ago toward America and the Monroe Doctrine, so now the new world may be called in to redress the balance of the old, acting in political and financial co-operation with England.

This seems fanciful, but in its support it is argued that history has a way of repeating itself. The greatest historians are, as a rule, convinced that history does not, in fact, repeat itself except with significant variations. Historical precedents are often good servants but are very bad masters. By a knowledge of the past we can guide ourselves as to the fundamental principles which are bound to assert themselves in the present, but each new crisis in world affairs, or even in the destiny of a single country has to be taken by itself with all its new and unforeseen elements.

Statesmen always need to be on their guard against neat formulas. So do students of public affairs. It is easy to say that Great Britain is now withdrawing from the Continent, but it would be hard to prove that she is doing so. She still has important political ties with various nations in Europe and problems in common with them, and her commercial motive to stay on the Continent, at least in the sense of maintaining there the most friendly diplomatic relations and the most advantageous trade openings, is more urgent today than it ever was before. One reason why the British Government stands apart from France in the matter of German reparations is in order that British manufacturers and merchants may soon find a way to make profitable commercial commitments on the Continent greater than for years past.

In these days diplomacy cannot sever itself from business. International policy has to be shaped by a compound of national interests which are largely those of industry and commerce. There are many reasons why the United States and Great Britain should seek for the fullest and most friendly understanding, and why they should work together in every way possible for the restoration of Europe; but this does not mean that it is either necessary or desirable for them to "withdraw" from the Continent.

Miss Ima Hoot Nanny sez she sees where the Canadian Government is going to remove the head tax on Chinese and she always did think it was nicer to charge 'em so much a foot like all good hongs.

We were sitting quietly smoking our usual Capstan a few moments ago awaiting the arrival of Inspiration (with a capital 'I') when the telephone rang. It appears a lady—she didn't give her name—desired to let us know that Chin Chin was not only a pagoda of piffle, but about the punkest, most useless junk she'd ever read.

In her own words: "It's not wit, it's not funny, it's not humorous, it's not clever—it's simply terrible."

We apologise, and not only apologise, but agree with the lady. Several people have told us our stuff was clever and that they read it as regularly as they do Jiggs and Maggie but we knew it was the good old line of bunkum unloaded under the assumption it would tickle our vanity and cause swelling sensations on the ego. We're sorry she wouldn't give us her name so we could put it in the Academy of Immortals. She's the missee Diogenes looked for until he ran out of Socony and for whom we've been searching for a year and a half. It is, you know, rather difficult at times to write even poor stuff every day year in and year out. The article that caused the outburst was our disquisition on kissing.

Our only consolation is that the lady, after all, does read our daily efforts and we hope she likes kissing more than she likes our column.

"United We Stand!"

BY ALFRED B. COOPER

(The well known English writer in "Answers.")

A well known American, who, acting as the London correspondent of a leading American newspaper, has made England his home for a good many years, has lately said farewell to our shores, possibly to return no more. Ere he left he sent message to "The Times," in which he says of this country:

"She has done things immeasurably great in the world."

This is praise which is calculated to warm the heart of every native of this "right little, tight little island," which has played, and continues to play, a leading role on the world's stage, as well as to act, quite frequently as stage-manager, because if she did not there would be no play at all, and perchance the rougher element among the spectators might swarm over the footlights and invade the boards, or even burn down the theater.

But this American citizen, who has been a sojourner among us so long, goes on to say: "Still greater tasks await her hand."

That's a startler What! Still greater tasks than that stupendous list of achievements which fill page after page of her thousand years of history? That prospect pulls up with a jerk our galloping steed Patriotism, whose sire is too often Self-interest, and whose dam is Pride.

We begin to wonder where we are heading. Is this the road to destruction or to glory? Are we on the right road at all; and, if so, are we capable of carrying on, or completing that last and splendid quest—a free, safe, happy democracy?

Then this American paying-guest, who has been living with us so long, lets us into his heart, and shows us his supreme desire. He says:

"My supreme political desire is, and for many years has been, that the power of the British Empire and the power of the United States shall be consolidated for the good of themselves and the world. Strong as both are, neither alone is sufficient. Unity should be the first watchword of democrats. Whoever among them oppose unity is a traitor to the camp of freedom."

That is well said; and, besides, he goes on to say that when he gets back to America he intends to work heart and soul for the democratic unity of the British Empire and the United States of America.

Almost on the same day that I saw this letter I had one from Australia, written by a graduate of Melbourne University about a former article of mine.

"I happened to be a member of the crew that won the King's Cup at Henley, in 1919, for Australia," he says, "and more than one paper called us 'foreigners.' I remember, too, crossing the Channel to England one day, during the war, and happening to be near some American officers, who strongly resented being classed as 'foreigners.' One of them said something about having 'as pure blood as a d——d Englishman.' I felt sorry, because it seemed another of those molehills which make mountains of bad feeling.

"Probably there was no other way than to treat Americans as 'foreigners,' but it might have been much better to have had a column headed: 'Americans—Our Cousins.' Britain has too much need of all her blood relations, and they have too much need of her, to allow anything to cause a breach. So great, indeed, is the need of unity that we all ought to resent anything that tends in the opposite direction."

Why are politicians on both sides of the Atlantic so slow to recognise the fact that America and Britain need each other supremely, and that a pact of peace, in which both wholeheartedly backed the things that made for peace and progress, and as wholeheartedly opposed those that made for war and retrogression, could "stand four-square to every wind that blows?"

Tell me! What could stand against the moral and material weight of Britain's and America's decree? I put the moral aspect first, because the mass weight of two great nations thinking in the same direction, and that direction being towards justice, liberty and good will, would, in the main, be irresistible. For such—and there are such, although their number is diminishing—as know no argument but physical might, to whom brute force alone appeals these two nations would need only to roll up their sleeves to compel the recalcitrant to keep step with the world-march of progress.

We are fatally inclined to turn from the obviously essential to "hap" and "mayhap"—a troublesome pair. We are apt to listen to the gag of any quack and try his nostrum, only to find, when we grow worse rather than better, that his advice and medicine are equally worthless. We are for ever running about seeking a magical well of healing, some wizard who can rub us rid of our crutches, when all we require is the natural fresh air and sunshine of good sense, the freedom and untrammelled exercise of the open country of good fellowship.

Similarly in politics. We are always trying nostrums. We are always sowing in barren soil. We are always fishing in polluted waters. We are always flying kites to see from what quarter the wind blows. Yet here, ready to our hand, is an instrument of peace and progress which would irevitably prove effective.

The one thing that matters supremely in the world today is a good understanding between the British Empire and the United States of America. There is no short cut to the millennium; but, at any rate, it is the way of wisdom to take the shortest. And here it is—the pact of the English speaking nations, solid in sentiment, united by blood and speech and outlook, bound together by a common interest, not only in their own prosperity, well-being, and advancement, but in that of mankind, worshipping the same God, ruled by the same moral sanctions, grounded in the same ideals.

Is this a dream, or is it a piece of "practical politics?" I hold that it is not only the sanest and wisest, but the most practical idea in the whole range of human ideas. It has its foundations deep laid in fundamental human relationships, a rock that keeps firm and durable when other foundations have frayed to shifting sand.

Quite recently one of Mr. Hearst's leading papers paid a glowing tribute to what this country stands for in the big world. This is praise indeed, for too often these papers have seemed to depreeate an Anglo-American pact. Let us accept this rapprochement, and foster it by every means in our power. We do not approach America as suppliants, but as equals, as compeers, as brothers—nay, rather, as mother to a big grown-up son. For, be it well remembered, America is in many respects more British than Britain, retaining some of those stern moralities which we have allowed to flag.

It is possible, on both sides, to look with a microscope at faults and hypocrisies, at vain boastings and empty words, and to find them the worse for magnifying. But that is not how sane men look at things. We need not go far from home to find things abhorrent to good citizenship.

But is this the spirit and genius of Britain? I think not. Why then, should it be the spirit of the great and powerful democracy which makes its home betwixt east and west, which has filled a continent with a high civilisation, and which, with us, is ready and eager to face the future with high hope and unflinching courage?

Thanking you for the trouble.

KIANGYIN, KU

The Kiangyin district has been remarkably quiet this year. In spite of the presence of between two and three thousand soldiers kept in the garrison at the Kiangyin Forts, there have been no serious disturbances of any kind. A large silver shop in the North Gate suburb was robbed a few nights ago, but the work was done in quite a professional manner by civilians from another section.

The continued rise in prices are making it increasingly difficult for the workman, the shopkeeper, and the small farmer to find a living. Both rice and straw are bringing unprecedented prices. Wages have increased somewhat, but not enough to keep pace with the cost of living, and many families will find it very difficult to "pass the year."

The small factories making gingham cloth on hand looms seem to be thriving. Several are running two shifts of workers, keeping the looms busy from dawn until nine p.m. The late shift has only been possible since the installation of electric lights in the city.

A very efficient local telephone system covers the city of Kiangyin, and now reaches the market towns east and south within a radius of about fifteen miles. It is this year being extended toward the west for an equal distance.

The annual talk of a "horse road" to connect Kiangyin with the Shanghai Nanking Railway, twenty-five miles distant, has been unusually active. This year both Changchow and Wusih have appeared as rival claimants for the southern terminus of the road. A good cinder ricsha road has been built through the city and the North Gate suburb to the bank of the Yangtsze River, and a local company has put about one hundred ricshas in operation.

The main canal to the southeast has been dammed and is being pumped dry in preparation for digging out the silt by human labor, after the old style. In marked contrast, just a few miles away, a modern steam dredge is working to keep open the channel of the main canal to Wusih for the launches which connect Kiangyin with the railway. The Wusih canal was dug out about eight years ago but is already silted up for a depth of several feet with Yangtsze River mud.

The Christian Church has grown steadily during the past year both in numbers and in influence. The membership for the Kiangyin Magistracy has this year passed one thousand, and there is a growing cordiality in the relation between the community and the church. This has recently been evidenced by the presentation of a complete X-ray, outfit to the Christian Hospital by the people of the community, their only stipulation being that it should be made available for all rich and poor alike.

There is considerable apathy toward the national political situation, and few, even of the younger and more hopeful spirits, are seriously expecting a solution. Locally affairs are well administered, and the unsettled condition of the national government is not seriouly felt.

Philippine Independence

(New York Times)

Representative Leonidas C. Dyer of Missouri, who told the Philippine Senate the other day that the next Congress at Washington would be favorable to independence, is said to be studying conditions in the Far East with a view to promoting American "trade." It is important to bear this in mind when considering his remarks about separation. What would happen to trade with the United States if the Collectivista Party, led by Manuel Quezon, were to realize its aspiration for an independent republic? At the present time a large amount of American money is invested in the islands, chiefly in Luzon. If the American flag were to come down our investors would probably decide to withdraw or reduce their capital, doubting the stability of the native Government. Americans in Manila who do business in the islands agreed with Governor General Wood and Mr. Cameron-Forbes when they reported, after a study of conditions, that the native Government had not attained the stability contemplated by the Jones act as a condition of independence.

The Governor General's reform program called for economy of administration, retirement of the Government from competitive business, liberal legislation to attract additional American capital, par for the peso with a gold reserve in the United States, and port improvements at Manila to make that city a great distributing point in the Far East. General Wood is remaining in the Philippines to carry out his plans. Much is yet to be done. He is popular with the people, but meets with obstruction among the native politicians, though less and less as time passes. Criticism of his policy naturally comes from the one thousand officeholders whom, in the cause of retrenchment, he deprived of their salaries. He is also opposed because he sets no time for independence under the provisions of the Jones act. Nor did the Democrats in the Congress that passed it. It is true that President Wilson in his last message to Congress, on Dec. 7, 1920, declared that the Filipinos had fulfilled the condition laid down by the Jones act and should have their independence.

The Sixty-seventh Congress having failed to consider the Philippine problem, it will probably be brought up in the next Congress, in which the Republican majority will be small in both houses, with a group of radicals holding the balance of power. Representative Dyer, who is a Republican, has revived the hopes of the Filipinos. However, it is pointed out by Americans that he has not made a study of economic conditions in the islands.

The Collectivista Party recently adopted resolutions calling for tariff preferences for the United States when a republic was set up. Thus is the weakness of their position indicated. What is tantamount to free trade with the United States (tariff laws of 1907 and 1913) has done wonders for the export trade. Sugar freights increased from 141,568,420 tons in 1907 to 302,420,370 in 1918; hemp exports increased four-fold, lumber six-fold, embroideries forty-fold. Only 82,175 cigars were shipped to the States in 1907; in 1918, 264,871,253. A Philippine republic would probably not have the benefit of light duties here. If the rates were considerably increased there would be an embarrassing decline in trade with the United States. So with separation the Collectivista Party wants what is practically free trade. Business enters into the independence problem. When C. H. Huston, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, visited Manila he was told that there must be a settled political status before more capital would be invested for the development of Philippine resources. Manuel Quezon advocates independence even if it involves the sacrifice of American protection. The Americans in Manila think that such a policy would be fatal. Whatever is done for the Philippines should not be done hastily. The question of independence will not be ripe for a vote until General Wood has finished his work and reports that the native Government has been stabillised.

A Week's Shanghai Trade

Part I

BY DAVID ARAKIE

(Financial Editor)

The principal feature in the produce market during the week was the strong demand for sesamum seeds from Genoa and Venice with prices offering for early shipment higher than those that Hamburg, Rotterdam and London are willing to pay.

Two thousand tons were done for shipment to Genoa for shipment in February or first half of March. Inquiries from Trieste have been numerous but they all called for prompt shipment. These inquiries have not been cashed into business owing to the scarcity of tonnage.

Genoa and Trieste are offering £24 per ton. The market in Shanghai is very firm, having risen this week from Tls. 7.30 per picul to Tls. 7.60 per picul. The Hankow market has also firmed up, and happily the European markets have followed suit.

Generally speaking, oil seeds in Europe are strong, as prices of Indian oil seeds are higher than Chinese, but on the other hand, prices of Chinese and African oil seeds are advancing. It is expected that Indian prices will go up higher as the rate of exchange at present is unfavorable for exports from India.

Hamburg is offering £23 or the utmost £23.10 per ton for Chinese sesamum seeds, while in London the consumers are out of the market.

Arrivals of sesamum seeds into Shanghai are still declining, making it somewhat difficult for the buyer to collect his lots. Stocks in Shanghai are now low.

LINSEEDS STEADY

Linseeds are somewhat steady, but the market is by no means strong as the afloat cargo from the Argentine to Europe is increasing. This has, therefore, affected the market in bean oil. Nevertheless, a small business is doing in bean oil at about Tls. 12.75 per picul. Shanghai stocks are small. After the Chinest New Year for about three weeks the local oil mills will take rest and crushing will not be done. Consequently, the oil mills are not buying soya beans at present. There is no demand for the product from the United States.

BEAN ARRIVALS

Some one thousand tons of beans arrived this week in Shanghai from Dairen. The market here is firm in sympathy with the harder tendency of the Dairen mart, but business is restricted owing to the approach of the Chinese New Year. The Dairen quotation is too high for the American consumers, while Europe is not buying beans as the price of linseed and linseed oil is cheaper. The price of linseed on the London Produce Exchange is 17-4¼ for January-February shipment and linseed oil 35-6 for February-April delivery. Some business was done this week between London and Tientsin in this product.

PEANUT OIL TO U. S. A.

America is buying peanut oil up to G.$9.20 and G.$9.50 per cwt. cif Pacific Coast. Since the opening of the season, the United States made purchases in Shanghai and Tsingtau to the extent of 5,000 tons. Most of these purchases will finally go to Canada.

A thousand tons were done this week for shipment to Seattle at G.$9.10 per 100 lbs. The business was put through in Tsingtau where facilities exist for bulk shipments. The quantity was contracted at yen 19 or Tls. 13.75 per picul.

SPECULATION IN PEANUTS

The market for peanuts is strong as a result of the recrudescence of buying on the part of the Cantonese merchants. The Shanghai price has advanced to Tls. 8.00 per picul from Tls. 7.60 per picul, while the local price for peanut oil is Tls. 14.50 per picul, against Tls. 13.50 per picul, ruling last week. The principal cause of the rise in values is the Chinese speculation in this particular commodity on the Tsingtau market. As a result, the market in Shanghai is compelled to follow Tsingtau.

No business was possible this week with England as the price the British buyers are offering is £21.5 per ton for peanuts and £2.5, equivalent to Tls. 13.00 per picul, for peanut oil. It would be noticed that English prices for peanut oil are lower than what the American consumers are paying.

For peanut cakes the market is firm. Generally speaking, all the cake markets are strong on account of the heavy demand from Japan for all cakes.

AMERICAN OIL MARKET

The vegetable oil market in the United States is in a better state, and this chiefly because the American cotton seed oil market is firm. The cottonseed oil, market is the biggest factor in the States in shaping the tone of vegetable oil in that country.

RAPESEEDS EXHAUSTED

Some Shanghai exporters have been successful in collecting very small parcels of rapeseeds in the interior points. Practically speaking, stocks of rapeseeds are entirely exhausted and the price is nominal at Tls. 7.00 per picul, although some dealers are bold enough to demand Tls. 7.50 per picul. It is doubtful if more than a hundred bags could be procured even at this price. There is nothing doing in rapeseed oil.

PIECE GOODS SETTLEMENT

Our piece goods market is confining largely to settlement of accounts and as native interest reigns in the region of 9 percent with apparently no objection on the part of bankers to make loans against piece goods, purchases for payment this Chinese year should be squared without difficulty.

Shipments still continue to a limited extent and the Northern ports have been the most active this past week.

MERCHANTS DEPRESS VALUES

Despite attemnts on the part of merchants to depress values we find prices very steady and as dealers anticipate higher opening prices and can easily carry their limited holdings, they have in many instances already advanced their prices by Tls. 0.25 for white shirtings and intend to hold firm even though sales dwindle. None of them are anxious to sell for New Year clearance, as past experience has proved that merchants contracts are only taken up if conditions are favorable. At the Auctions staples commanded fair attention from speculators and prices slightly improved; blacks and fancies were easy and bidding was inclined to drag.

The Manchester market during the past week recorded advances in come instances, but makers are undoubtedly in work and will make concessions rather than lose business. Indian markets are still operating to a fair extent.

COTTON YARN STEADY

The cotton yarn market this week maintained a steady tone throughout with a rise of some three taels per bale being registered on Wednesday. This has been influenced by the very steady nature of cotton prices.

In all, some 8,000 bales of yarn were transacted, principally 16s., 20s. and 10s. bought by Szechuen and Kiangse dealers and partly by speculators. Last week's total transactions did not amount to more than 3,000 bales.

STOCKS SMALL

Stocks of yarn in the hands of the millowners and speculators amount to about 30,000 bales. Japanese yarn is arriving in increasing quantities since January, in which month the arrivals came up to about 20,000 bales. The market in Japan is also steady.

16s. are quoted at Tls. 145 to Tls. 160, 10s. Tls. 130 to Tls. 138 and 20s. Tls. 160 to Tls. 180.

SMALLER COTTON RECEIPTS

Arrivals of cotton are growing less, those from Shensi totalling about 500 bales, Tungchow 200 bales, Hankow 300 bales and Shanghai 1,000 piculs. Present stocks here of Tungchow cotton are about 20,000 bales, of Hankow 2,000 bales, and Shensi about 2,000 bales. There are no stocks of Shanghai cotton.

Quotations are Tls. 41 for Shensi, Tls. 40 for Shanghai, Tls. 36 for Hankow and Tls. 42 for Tungchow.

The Bombay market is quite steady. Oomras being quoted at Rs. 465 per candy, Bengal Rs. 377 and Broach at Rs. 515.

The American market is also steady although it declined during the week forty points.

RUBBER FLUCTUATIONS

The rubber market both in Singapore and London fluctuated within narrow limits. On January 24 the price of raw rubber on the London market was 1s. 6⅝d. on the 26th at 1s. 5⅝d. and then up again on January 30 to 1s. 5⅞d.

The Singapore market was a little higher than London for the Singapore quotation on January 24 was 65 cents per pound, equivalent to 1s. 6⅝d. per lb. and then on the 26th it was 63 cents, on the 27th 62 cents and on January 31 62 cents.

Stocks of rubber on the London market are still about 70,000 tons while those in Singapore are extremely small.

It is expected that Singapore prices will not change materially till after the Chinese New Year as the Chinese speculator is a big factor in that market. It is quite possible that the political horizon has had the effect of causing the small fluctuations in the rubber market.

There has been a good demand for rubber shares on the Shanghai stock market, but although prices were shaded slightly shares were difficult to secure.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician knowing of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."

Banker Sees Sign Of Trade Revival In Coal And Iron

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 1.—Dr. Walter Leaf, the Chairman, speaking at the annual meeting of the London County, Westminster and Parrs' Bank, said that the action of France in the Ruhr was very disquieting as it served to complete the economic collapse of Germany.

Nevertheless, there were definite signs of strong trade revival and the encouraging newspaper reports of recovery were fully confirmed by the Bank's Managers in different industrial centers.

Dr. Leaf said that perhaps the cotton trade was suffering the most owing to the weakness of demand from India and China but the iron trade was showing renewed activity and the coal trade was most active.

Lunatic Accused In Poisoning Case

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 1.—Mr. Walter Tatam, aged 42, the son of wealthy Balham residents, was charged today at Bow Street with attempting to poison Sir William Horwood, the Commissioner of Police, on November 9 by means of chocolates containing arsenic and also with attempting to poison the Assistant Commissioners of Police, Mr. Trevor Bigham and Mr. Frank Elliott, on November 6.

The police told a dramatic story of the arrest of Mr. Tatam at his parents' residence. The prisoner unsheathed a sword-stick and accused the police of trying to murder him at Farnham. He was eventually overpowered.

The police knew that the prisoner had been detained as a certified lunatic for some years.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

February 2, 1923

Spot bar silver was down 3-16d. and forward ¼d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 65¼ cents and the London New York cross rate improved to 466⅜ with the Market reported as firm.

The changes in our official quotations here today were a rise in the Rupee rate to 223, in the Franc rate to 1200 and the Gold Dollar rate improved to 71.

The market at the opening was steady, a small business in Sterling being done as high as 3-0⅞ cash and 3-0 9-16 for March delivery.

Gold Dollars were done at 71¾ for near and 71¼ for March delivery. There were few sellers at these rates which were at their best just before the Tiffin interval.

The market continued quiet after the Tiffin interval with rather more buyers than sellers, with Sterling at 3s. 0⅝d. for immediate delivery and 3s. 0⅜d. for March

Banks were quoting 3-1⅞ and 73½ for Sterling and G. Dollar bills for delivery prior to China New Year and 3-1¾ and 73¼ for subsequent deliveries.

There was nothing doing in the New York silver market where the supply is reported as small.

Electric Cooking

POINTS THAT COUNT

Anyone who is sceptical about Electric Cooking—its possibilities, convenience and economy—has only to make a trial of one or two pieces of apparatus to become a pronounced convert.

CLEANLINESS.—There are no smells or noxious fumes; no dust, soot or ashes as with coal.

RELIABILITY.—Electric Cooking appliances are now as strong, serviceable and reliable as the ordinary cooking utensils.

CONVENIENCE.—No fires to light—no matches. Simply a switch to touch.

SAFETY.—Electric Cookers are ABSOLUTELY SAFE in anybody's hands.
